

Terms and Conditions

ECPC's website presents the activities of the organisation and aims to provide information for cancer patients, our members and the public. The ECPC website provides information to help capacity building and to keep visitors up to date with the most current developments in the mission against cancer in Europe.

By using this website, you agree to the terms and conditions set out below. We reserve the right to change these terms and conditions at any time and the amended terms and conditions will apply to your continued use of the website.

If you have any questions about our terms and conditions, please contact us.

Disclaimer of liability: material and links on the website

Whilst all reasonable care has been taken in compiling the information on the website, we do not guarantee its accuracy or reliability and neither ECPC, nor its editors, can be held responsible for any inaccuracies or misstatements of fact beyond our control. We may make changes to the material on the website at any time without notice. We and any third parties referred to on the website assume no responsibility for how you use the information provided through the website.

References and links contained within this website to organisations, websites and events which are not under the control of ECPC should not be construed as endorsements by ECPC. Referenced information is provided for convenience of reference only and its provision is not intended as a warranty of any type regarding the referenced information or any information referenced at any such website.

References within this website is for informational purposes only. It is not intended as medical advice and should not be relied upon as a substitute for consultations with qualified health professionals.

Any reviews, opinions, and recommendations contained within this site are not necessarily those of ECPC and ECPC cannot be held responsible for any damages resulting from the use of any referenced information or the inclusion of any referenced information within the site.

Use of website and copyright

Unless explicitly stated, all material that appears at www.ecpc.org and subsections thereof is copyright © ECPC. All rights reserved.

You may access, view and print copies of material contained in the website as long as you comply with these terms and conditions and:

- you use the material for non-commercial, personal use only;
- all copyright notices are kept on the material; and
- you do not modify, reproduce, display, distribute or perform the material for any public use without prior written consent from ECPC.

EPC encourages its information to be used in other websites with appropriate acknowledgement.

Where copyright of material (such as photographs) belongs to someone other than ECPC, this will be stated on or near the material on the website.

Personal information and use of data

ECPC will only use any personal information you send us for the purposes for which you provide it. For example, we collect your information, where you choose to provide it to us, for newsletter sign-up, membership sign-up, administration and development of the website.

All employees who have access to your personal data and are associated with the handling of that data are obliged to respect the confidentiality of your personal data. ECPC aims to keep the information we have about you accurate and up to date. If, however, you find errors or inaccuracies in your data, we will erase, complete or amend that information upon request.

ECPC will not sell, rent, distribute or otherwise make user data commercially available to any third party.

Governing law:

These terms and conditions shall be governed by the laws of Belgium and any dispute arising from these terms and conditions or your use of the website shall be subject to the exclusive jurisdiction of the Belgium courts.
