Cancellation

Ordinary General Assembly of tomorrow 26 June 2021 is cancelled

Dear member, partner, friend,

Yesterday Mr de Lorenzo, acting in his capacity as President of FAVO, circulated the attached letter to a non-identified number of addressees, but formally addressed to the members of ECPC in view of the general assembly planned for tomorrow.

The attached letter, as well as the many others we received either directly or indirectly through messages that Mr de Lorenzo, sometimes acting in his own name, sometimes in the name of FAVO, continues to send to members and stakeholders, contain false accusations against ECPC and its Board.

therefore with great regret, but with strong determination to protect the interests of our association, that the Board of ECPC has considered that the current situation does not guarantee a serene and rational environment to promote constructive discussions and decisions during the AGM of tomorrow.

The Board has therefore decided to cancel tomorrow's General Assembly.

A new General Assembly will be called in due time.

We take the opportunity of this official communication to formally contest the accusations brought forward by Mr de Lorenzo and FAVO: nothing at any point in time has ever been done unlawfully, illegally or for any purpose other than the pursuit of the interests of the association and we are currently evaluating all possible actions, both in civil and criminal court, to protect the rights and reputation of our association against the constant defamation perpetrated by Mr de Lorenzo and FAVO through its President.

We fully understand that you may be confused by the continuous accusations of Mr de Lorenzo, however we trust that you will be able to see through this fog and that you will understand the simple truth behind all of this: a new management is in place and, instead of leaving with class, the old one is ready to go to great lengths and bring disrepute to the association in order to regain what he considers his by right.

Yours sincerely,

Ken Mastris, President

Jacqueline Daly, Secretary
